Headline:
Mostly dry, but early drizzle for some. Rather cloudy.

Today:
Rather cloudy, with only a few sunny spells developing before the cloud starts to break up during the late afternoon. Mostly dry, though patchy drizzle may affect northern parts through the morning and the odd light shower is possible later. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Tonight:
The cloud continues to break up overnight, allowing clear skies for many through the early hours. Dry throughout with enough breeze to prevent fog formation, but not windy. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Sunday:
Bright and dry on Sunday, with sunny spells for many. Skies will gradually cloud over from the late afternoon onwards, a with slight chance of rain arriving overnight. Feeling warm. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Early rain possible on Monday, then dry with some sunny spells. Sunny on Tuesday after early fog clears. Dry and sunny again on Wednesday. Becoming very warm.
